What can our community do to better address acts of mistreatment?

- * Earlier intervention. Full time counselors at the elementary level would help the children prior to middle school to have the skills necessary for middle school.
- * Teach the kids about all the potential issues of technology and social media.
- * Have strict and consistent consequences for children who misbehave.
- * Better training to encourage students to intervene.
- * Create more active supervision during problem times.
- * Inclusion needs to be taught, modeled and practiced at school.
- * Advocating for oneself and being resilient are extremely important.
